

Special Issue on Emotion, Behaviors and Effects

Call for Papers

Emotion is a mental state that arises spontaneously rather than through conscious effort and is often accompanied by physiological changes. Such mental states or the qualities that are associated with them, especially in contrast to reason: a decision based on emotion rather than logic. It's an affective state of consciousness in which joy, sorrow, fear, etc., is experienced, as distinguished from cognitive and volitional states of consciousness.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Emotion, Behaviors and Effects. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Memory and emotion
- Process of intuition
- Social-emotional problems and adjustments
- Emotion and attention
- Psychosocial factors
- Emotional and behavioral problems

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Emotion, Behaviors and Effects” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	October 29th, 2019
Publication Date	December 2019
