

Special Issue on Positive Psychology and Emotions

Call for Papers

Positive psychology focuses on the character strengths and behaviors that allow individuals to build a life of meaning and purpose—to move beyond surviving to flourishing. In focusing on how people can become happier and more fulfilled, positive psychology stands in contrast to a focus on psychopathology.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Positive Psychology and Emotions. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Positive experiences and behavior
- Character strengths, personality and emotions
- Well-being, satisfaction and happiness
- Relationships management
- Optimism and emotional intelligence
- Positive emotion regulation
- Prosocial behaviors

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Positive Psychology and Emotions” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	September 4th, 2020
Publication Date	November 2020
