

Special Issue on Depression, Anxiety and Mental Health

Call for Papers

Depression is a state of low mood and aversion to activity that can affect a person's thoughts, behavior, feelings, and sense of well-being. Anxiety is an emotion characterized by an unpleasant state of inner turmoil, often accompanied by nervous behavior, such as pacing back and forth, somatic complaints, and rumination. These two moods affect human health and social behaviors in many aspects.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Depression, Anxiety and Mental Health. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- PTSD
- Cognitive impairments
- Personality and depression
- Mood disorders
- Emotion and behaviors
- Cognitive therapy for depression and anxiety
- Psychiatric disorders and treatment
- Social problems
- Panic disorder and social phobia
- Suicide problems
- Postpartum depression

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Depression, Anxiety and Mental Health” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	July 15th, 2021
Publication Date	September 2021
