

How to get to Bradford Industrial Museum on public transport.

The nearest train station is Bradford Forster Square, which is 1.8 miles from Bradford Industrial Museum.

The nearest bus stop is the Harrogate Road/Moorside Road stop, which is approximately a 6 minute walk from the museum.

The Harrogate Road/Moorside Road stop is served by the 645 bus. This bus goes from Buttershaw to Greengates, via Bradford Interchange and Bradford City Centre.

Below is a list of primary schools that are directly on the route of the 645 bus.

645 – Home Farm Primary, St John the Evangelist Primary, Wibsey Primary, Bankfoot Primary, Newby Primary, St Stephen's CofE Primary, St Joseph's Catholic Primary, Rainbow Primary, Barkerend Primary, Westminster CofE Primary, Peel Park Primary, Wellington Primary, St Luke's CE Primary, Cavendish Primary, Our Lady and St Brendan's Primary, Holybrook Primary, Co-op Academy Parklands.

How to get from the Harrogate Road/Moorside Road bus stop to Bradford Industrial Museum.

If you arrive on a bus heading away from Bradford City Centre, you will arrive at the bus stop in photo 1. You will need to cross over to the other side of Harrogate Road (photo 2)

If you arrive on a bus heading towards Bradford City Centre, you will arrive at the bus stop in photo 3. You are on the correct side of the road for walking to the museum.

The road you are looking for is Moorside Road. This is the wide road between the two bus stops, shown in photo 4. There is a brown sign marked “Industrial Museum” on the main road, pointing towards it

Walk down Moorside Road, as shown in photo 5

You will soon reach the entrance of Bradford Industrial Museum, which is on the left (photo 6)

When you enter the site, follow the path round to the left across the cobbles. This will take you past the back to back houses on your left, and the horse emporium and mill manager's house on your right. The main entrance (photo 7) will be on your right just past here.

