

Lippincott Journal Portfolio

Author Permission Guidelines

permissions@lww.com

ARTICLES

Please see options available for non-profit and non-commercial reuses below.

All requests to reuse your Final Published Article must be submitted via RightsLink and reviewed by Lippincott's Permissions Team.

To learn how to submit a request via RightsLink, please visit: How to Request Permission.

WHAT IS A FINAL PEER-REVIEWED MANUSCRIPT?

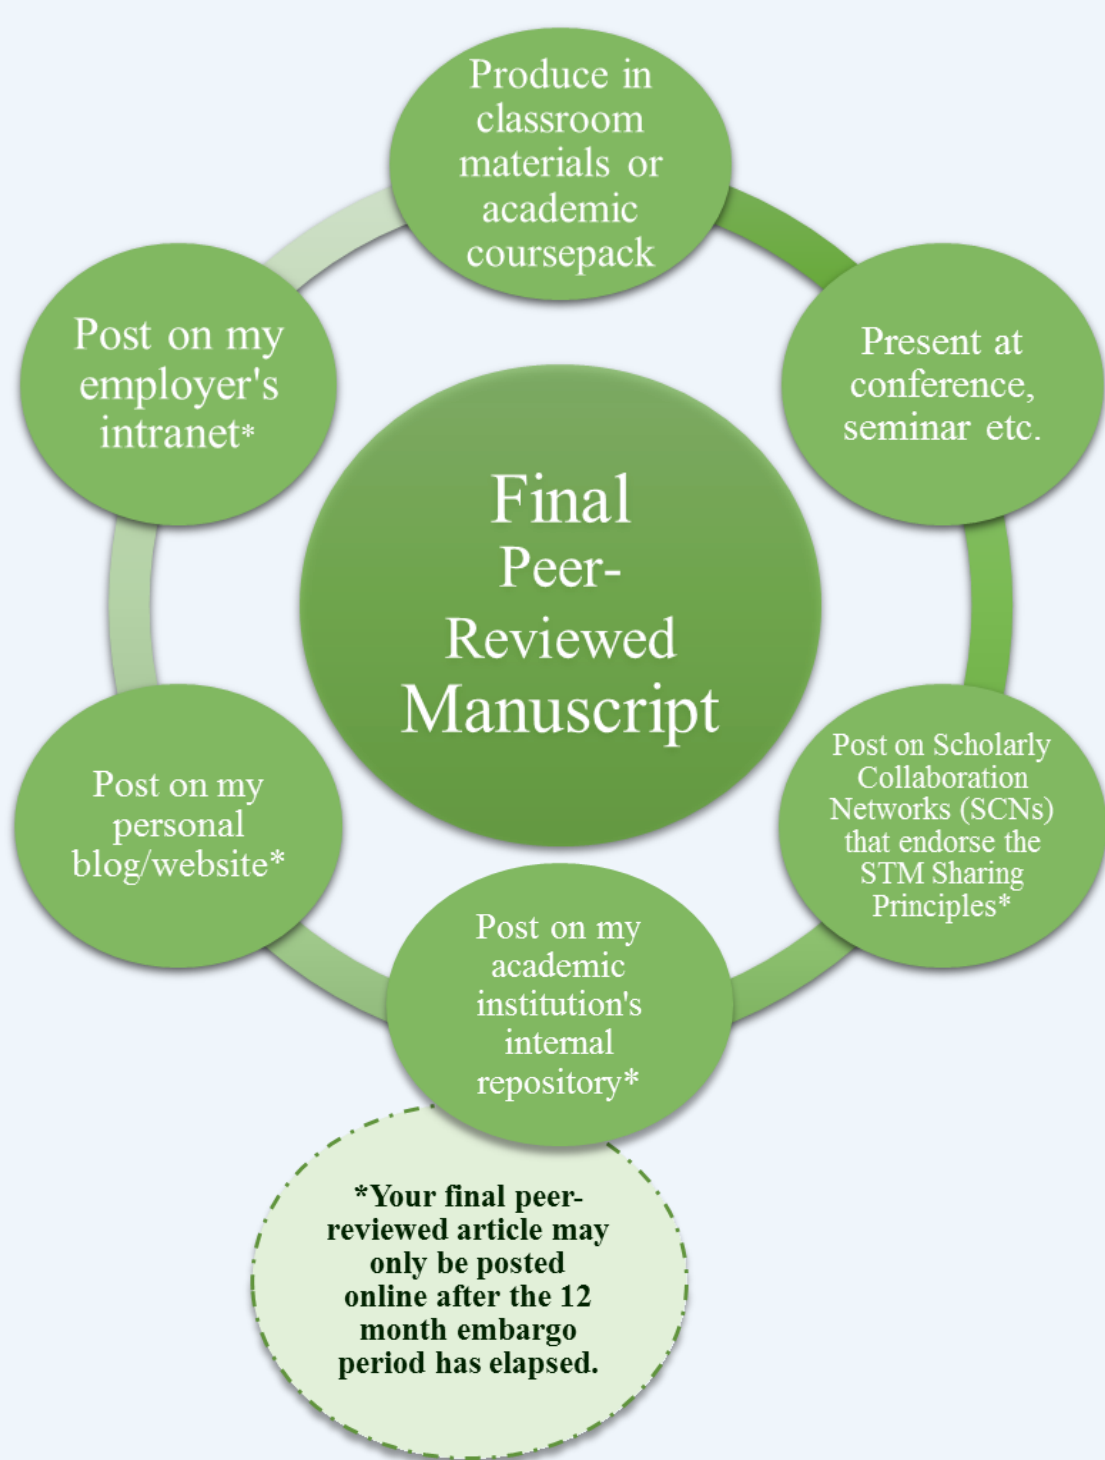

Final Peer-Reviewed Manuscript (FPRM):
A final peer-reviewed manuscript is the article manuscript that was submitted for publication by Lippincott.
This manuscript has not been edited or formatted by Lippincott.

WHAT IS A FINAL PUBLISHED ARTICLE?

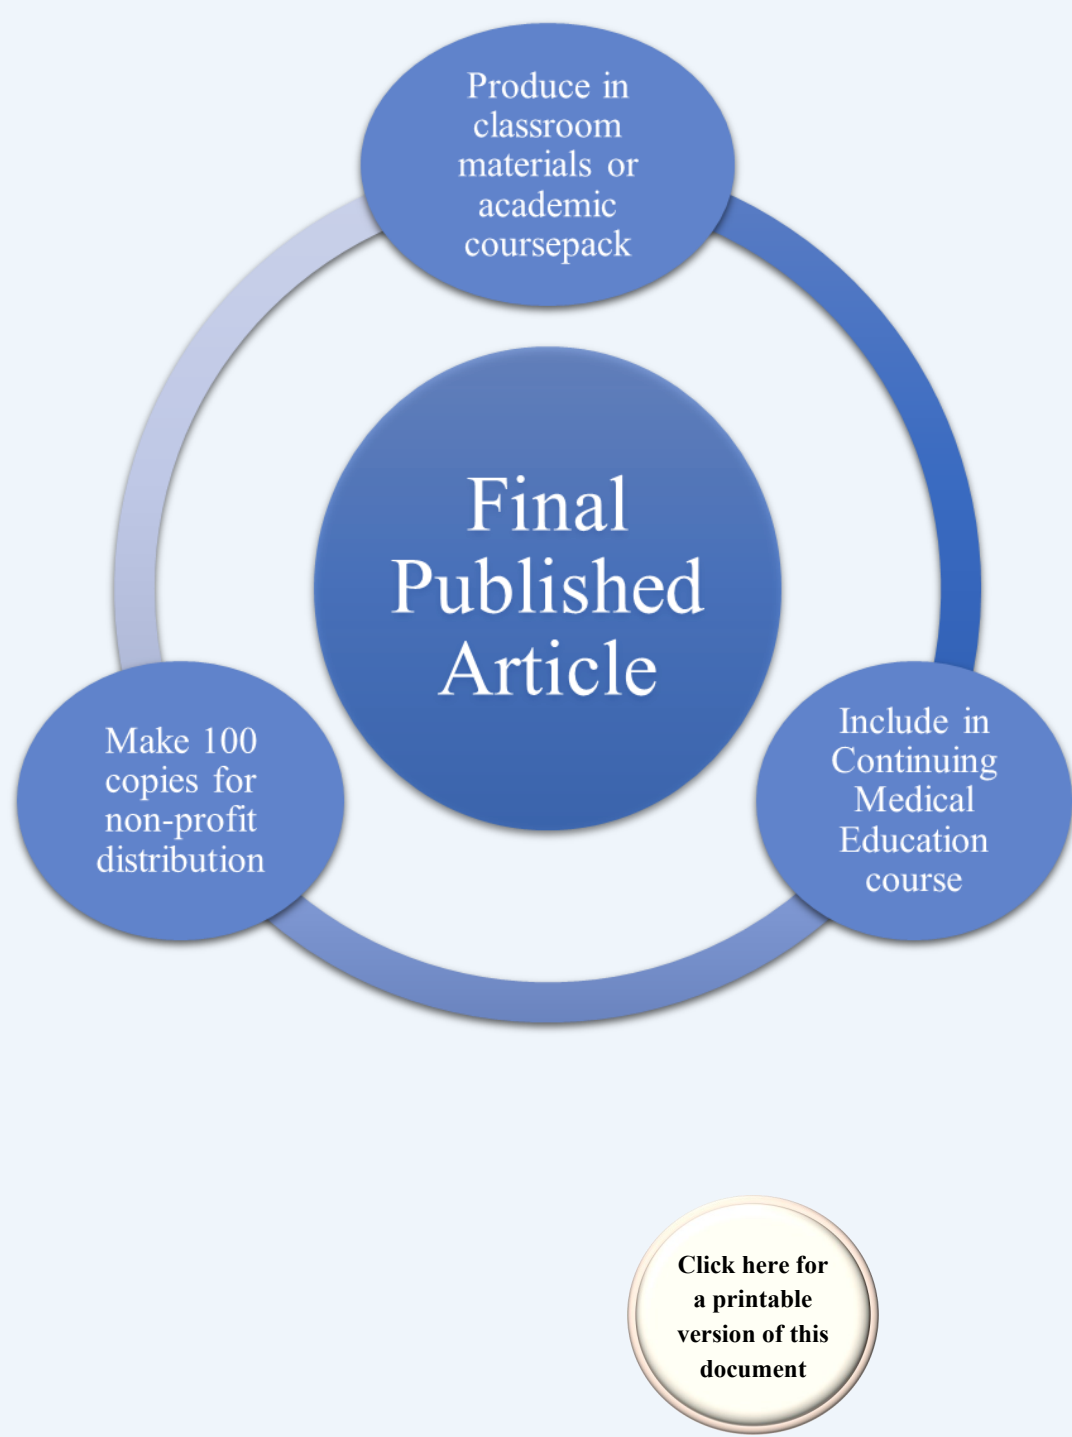

Final Published Article:
This manuscript is the final, published version of your manuscript.
This version has been edited and formatted by the Lippincott Editorial Team and published in a Lippincott journal.

HOW YOU CAN USE YOUR FINAL PEER-REVIEWED MANUSCRIPT:

HOW YOU CAN USE YOUR FINAL PUBLISHED ARTICLE:

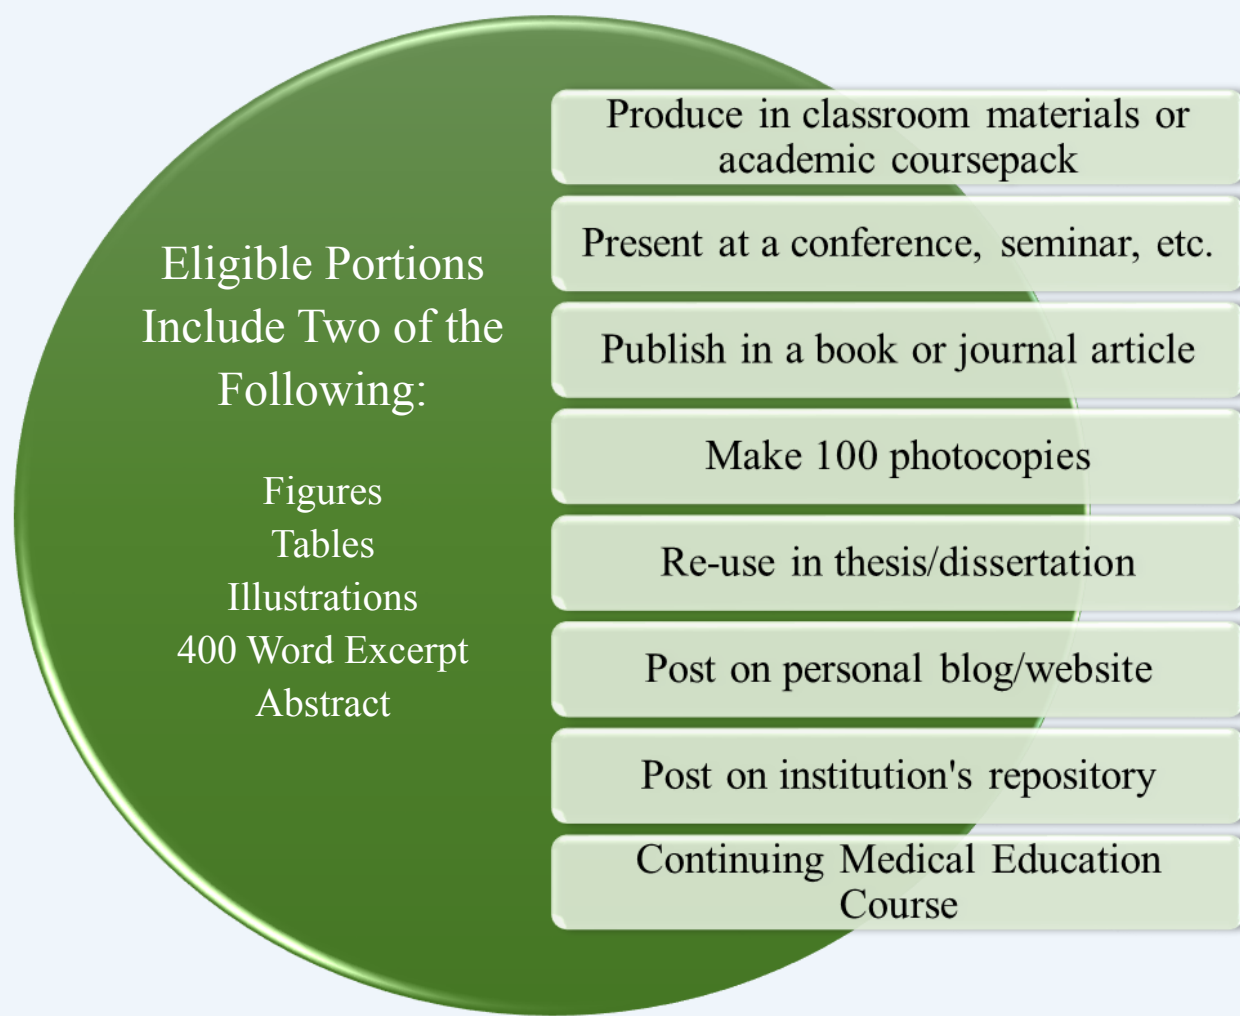

PORTIONS

Please see options available for non-profit and non-commercial reuses below.

All requests to reuse content must be submitted via RightsLink and reviewed by Lippincott's Permissions Team.

To learn how to submit a request via RightsLink, please visit: How to Request Permission.

License:	Permission is required to reuse content	Proper attribution to the original publication is required.
CC BY	Permission is required to reuse content	Proper attribution to the original publication is required.
CC BY SA	Permission is required to reuse content	Proper attribution to the original publication is required.	If you modify or alter the content for reuse, it must be published under the same license.
CC BY ND	Permission is required to reuse content	Proper attribution to the original publication is required.	The borrowed content may not be distributed if the content is modified or altered.
CC BY NC	Permission is required to reuse content	Proper attribution to the original publication is required.	The content may not be used for commercial purposes. Only non-commercial reuses are permitted.
CC BY NC SA	Permission is required to reuse content	Proper attribution to the original publication is required.	If you modify or alter the content for reuse, it must be published under the same license. The content may not be used for commercial purposes. Only non-commercial reuses are permitted.
CC BY NC ND	Permission is required to reuse content	Proper attribution to the original publication is required.	The borrowed content may not be distributed if the content is modified or altered. The content may not be used for commercial purposes. Only non-commercial reuses are permitted.

If your type of use is not listed, submit a request via RightsLink or email permissions@lww.com.

WHAT IS OPEN ACCESS?
Open Access is the free, immediate, online access for any online user. It is digital, scholarly material published in peer-reviewed journals.

HOW CAN I USE MY ARTICLE IF IT IS OPEN ACCESS?
Certain reuses can be limited depending on the type of license your article is published under.
To learn more about license types, and how they influence your reuses please see the corresponding chart to the left or visit the following link:
<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/>

Click here for a printable version of this document

Please refer to your Copyright Transfer Agreement before applying to use content in a new source.

*Lippincott will permit the author to deposit a final peer-reviewed manuscript on his/her personal website, university's institutional repository or employer's intranet only after twelve months have passed from the article's publication date. The final peer-reviewed manuscript must be updated or replaced with a proof of the final article. The final peer-reviewed manuscript must appear alongside the following notice: "This is a non-final version of an article published in final form in (provide complete journal citation)." Upon NIH request, it remains the legal responsibility of the author to confirm with NIH the provenance of his/her manuscript for purposes of deposit. Author may not deposit articles him/herself. The final peer-reviewed manuscript already transmitted to NIH may not be altered. To learn more: NIH Public Access Policy. Lippincott policy prohibits posting articles and portions of articles on social networking websites. To learn more about options available for sharing your article in line with copyright law, please visit <http://www.howcanishareit.com/>.