VSAC-Assisted Forgivable Loans

The forgivable loans on the following pages are administered by VSAC and use the Unified Scholarship Application (USA).

Please refer to the forgivable loan descriptions for application instructions and contact information.

What is a forgivable loan?

The state of Vermont offers a number of forgivable loan programs to encourage students to enter the Vermont workforce in specific high-demand fields. These programs:

- are typically interest free (the promissory note will provide interest rate if applicable)
- require a signed promissory note to accept the funding and the conditions of the program.
- do not require payment while the student is enrolled in the applicable degree or training program.
- are “forgiven,” meaning that the loan does not have to be paid back when the student meets the conditions and work obligations outlined in the signed promissory note
- must be repaid if the student does not complete the program, receive their license, and work in the intended field, in Vermont, following completion of the program.

Who should apply?

- Students attending (or planning to attend) an approved college, university or training program within the United States or Canada who:
 - are United States citizens (or eligible non-citizens), and
 - intend to work in Vermont, in the field of study for which they received the forgivable loan, following the completion of their program

How to apply

The process is the same as applying for other VSAC-assisted scholarships:

- Complete the Unified Scholarship Application (USA) in your MyVSAC account at secureacctaccess.vvac.org/myvsac/
 - If you don't have a MyVSAC account, click on “Register Now” and follow the instructions.
- Each forgivable loan usually requires at least one additional required document (see the description). Submit your required documents online through your MyVSAC account.
 - If the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is required and you are an out of state resident, you must submit a copy of your FAFSA Submission Summary. If you are a Vermont resident, VSAC will automatically receive your FAFSA, once processed.

When to apply?

- The USA is available October 1, 2024.
- Funding is limited. The priority deadline is February 12, 2025, to submit the USA and all required documents for forgivable loans.
- Forgivable loans are awarded on a first-come, first-served basis as long as funding is available. Those who apply by the priority deadline will be considered first.

How to check the status of your application

- Check the status of your application through your MyVSAC account online at vsac.org—click on “Work with VSAC-Assisted Scholarships.”

Your responsibilities

- If awarded a forgivable loan, you are required to:
 - sign a promissory note that will be mailed to you with your award notification, committing to the conditions and specific work obligations of the program.
 - repay the loan if you do NOT meet the conditions of the promissory note—including but not limited to: not completing the program; not receiving your license; and not working in your field of study, in Vermont, following licensure/completion of program.
 - respond to and complete an annual verification process with the VSAC Scholarship Program.

Beware of Scams

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) warns students to be careful in using scholarship search companies. While some firms are legitimate, others aren't. A tip-off could be if the firm “guarantees” or “promises” scholarships or grants. No reputable firm can legitimately make such a claim.

Beware of these telltale statements:

“This scholarship is guaranteed or your money back.”

“You can't get this information anywhere else.”

“We'll need your credit card or bank account number to hold this scholarship.”

“We'll do all the work for you!”

“There's a fee to apply for this scholarship.”

“You've been selected by a national foundation to receive a scholarship.”

“You're a finalist ...” (in a contest you never entered)

Notes

The Vermont Student Assistance Corporation (VSAC) publishes this booklet to provide you with information about specific scholarships and forgivable loans available to Vermont residents. Most of the scholarships listed are sponsored by private groups, including Vermont businesses, charitable or service organizations, veterans groups, and others.

The majority of financial aid available to Vermont students is provided by your college, university, or training school, the federal government, and VSAC. Scholarships and forgivable loans are considered supplements to other aid, such as grants and loans.

Scholarships, like grants, are forms of “gift aid,” meaning there is no obligation (under most circumstances) to repay the funds. While grants are generally awarded according to financial need, scholarships are typically based on factors unique to each scholarship. These may include residency, degree program or major, academic achievement, extracurricular activities, and—in some cases—financial need.

Forgivable loans require a signed promissory note to accept the funding and the conditions of the program. They do not require payment while the student is enrolled in the applicable program and are typically interest free (the promissory note will provide the interest rate, if applicable). Forgivable loans are “forgiven,” meaning they do not have to be paid back, when the conditions and work obligations outlined in the promissory note are met. If the conditions and work obligations are not met, the loan must be repaid according to the terms of the promissory note.

Remember that when you apply for scholarships and forgivable loans, you’ll be competing against other students who apply. Keep in mind, though, that if a scholarship is based on academic achievement, you may not have to be the best student in your class; you simply need to be the best student applying for that scholarship. Similarly, if a scholarship is based on financial need, your need will be compared only to the need of other applicants within that scholarship pool.
